

Paul Paper
Smoke Screen

Published by Lodret Vandret
Edition of two hundred, 2015
280 NOK (30 Euros)

What does it mean to live in a world where the digital screen is so prominent? Smoke Screen is a subjective exploration into the condition of digital screenship.

paula roush
Bus-spotting

Edition of two hundred and fifty, 2015
800 NOK (85 Euros)

A tribute to bus enthusiasts and an exploration into the historical, social and aesthetic values of archives. A fictional narrative in the format of a letter dated 1971 found with the photographs and the recent testimony of one of the photographers, together with pictures of double- and single-decker buses selected from roush's private archive of found photographs illustrate different approaches to the material.

Peter Rapp
Famous Philatelic Errors

Edition of thirty, 2016
2060 NOK (220 Euros)

The modest dimensions of postage stamps belie the political messages they carry. Occasionally errors, freaks and oddities are caused in the production process. In this collection of 'rare' stamps printed in linocut, letterpress and handbound, things have gone satirically awry.

Randi Annie Strand
The biggest form has no contour

Edition of thirty-five, 2012
3760 NOK (400 Euros)

A series of blind embossed maps, inspired by the Braille principle of reading with the tactile senses, are accompanied by Jorge Luis Borges' short story On Exactitude in Science, a literary forgery describing the relationship between geographical territory and the mapping of it.

Sam Hodge
A Catalogue of Misfortune

Edition of seven hundred and fifty, 2015
310 NOK (33 Euros)

Dry-point prints of smashed mobile screens are accompanied by fables for the digital age. The unfortunate owners efforts to make sense of the accidents reveal our current attitudes towards chance events, modern technology and the impermanence of material objects.

Sara-Lena Maierhofer
Dear Clark,

Edition of sixty, 2013
2440 NOK (260 Euros)

A study and investigation into the life and lies of con man Clark Rockefeller, aka Christian Karl Gerhartsreiter - "After several failed attempts to capture him, I realised I had to beat him with his own weapons. I had to become accustomed to experimenting with deception myself, to the point where reality and speculation merged."

Sigrid Calon
QWERTY

Edition of three hundred and seventy five, 2016
660 NOK (70 Euros)

A new typeface designed along the lines of Calon's signatory use of embroidery software acts as a visual balance between a letter's grapheme and its abstract form. The CALON Block, CALON Plain and the CALON Speed are now ready for (private) use.

Sophie Loss
Death and Life...

Edition of one thousand, 2015
300 NOK (32 Euros)

A red blotch mirrors the cherries in the printed reproduction of Nature morte avec oiseaux morts et cerises, an oil painting by Jean-Baptiste Oudry (1712) on the opposite page. Does this stain come from ink, blood or juice?

Toby Leigh
Berberry
Published by Ditto Press

Edition of two hundred and fifty, 2015
300 NOK (32 Euros)

Documentation spanning 10 years photographing fake Burberry products - mass produced clothes, birthday cakes, cars, tattoos, wheelchairs, iPhone covers, toilet seats and whole apartment blocks clad in the go-to symbol of pseudo luxury.

Artists who do books

kaleiditions.com
@kaleiditions f t i

Alessandro Rizzi
Sculptures

Published by Yard Press
Edition of five hundred, 2015
330 NOK (35 Euros)

Photographs shot over the time span of a few hours in Washington D.C. on December 13th 2014, during the civil rights protests that took place in the capital after the fatal shooting and civil unrest originating in Ferguson, Missouri.

Alexander Bühler
Eden

Edition of one hundred and eighty, 2010
260 NOK (28 Euros)

A poem, a torn fragment and thirteen postcards describe a 300m2 area in Kyosumi-shirakawa in Tokyo where Bühler lived. Plants in the neighbourhood photographed on the artists' phone emblematically document local residents.

Amanda Couch, Andrew Hladky, Mindy Lee and Richard Nash

On Innards I Publications
Published by bookRoom
Edition of two hundred, 2015
780 NOK (85 Euros)

A collaboration between artists and experts in the fields of gastroenterology, virology, the medical humanities, cultural theory, poetry, yoga, and performance, the work explores multidisciplinary perspectives on digestion.

Ben Cave
Bloom

Edition of five hundred, 2014
240 NOK (25 Euros)

Two conflicting visions of the world of flora raise questions about shifting notions of foreignness and the indigenous ideal. Plants that have been categorised as invasive non-native species in Great Britain are contrasted with arrangements of cultivated flowers and vegetables, which have been entered into competitions at local horticultural shows.

Benedikt Terwiel
Measuring a location in units of time

Edition of two hundred, 2015
2800 NOK (300 Euros)

A four-part map depicts a 50km route beginning in East Berlin at 6:20am and ending at 7:20pm in West Berlin. The one-day journey by foot from sunset to sundown along cartographic points is measured by the camera to produce images of a concrete spatial situation in lieu of numeric coordinates.

Bjarne Bare
MAR

Edition of two hundred and fifty, 2016
140 NOK (15 Euros)

A collection of images made in and around Los Angeles suggests an interest in the return to street photography, principally in matters of abstraction, narration and the picture-plane in photographs. As with pictures, the value of focusing on the detail does not lie in the subject itself, but rather in the particulars carried within the surface of the object.

Christian Tunge
The Games

Edition of one hundred, 2016
190 NOK (20 Euros)

Found material from the Olympic Games, including stories and myths surrounding the sporting event are presented graphic and conceptual exercises in its own right. Playing with sequencing, picture association and symbolism, the publication focuses on the Games function as both an outlet and trigger for conflict.

Daniele Catalli
A Midsummer Night's Dream

Edition of four hundred, 2014
840 NOK (90 Euros)

An illustrative peep show and Victoriana tunnel book inspired by William Shakespeare's comedy play. Letterpress and screen-printed by hand.

---

Edward Newton*Forza

Edition of two hundred and fifty, 2015
120 NOK (13 Euros)

Photographs made in the Italian city of Genoa in Newton's illuminated reserve style are published in a visual chapbook, as part of an ongoing series capturing European coastal cities.

---

Guisepppe Ungaretti*Kalumet

Published by CTL-Presse
Edition of twenty-four, 2015
23400 NOK (2500 Euros)

An atlas containing five poems in five languages accompanying five geographical maps.

Thousands of aircrafts captured in a singular moment by 'flight radar' calculations prove inversely proportional in number to the range of languages spoken in each geographical region.

---

Guy Bigland*All the Paintings in the Museum

Edition of one thousand, 2015
280 NOK (30 Euros)

A list of the titles of paintings in the Fitzwilliam Museum, Cambridge, UK. Ranging from intricacy to abstract obfuscation; the words are detached from the paintings and alphabetically regimented as an inventory informed by art historical conventions, clichés and the idiosyncrasies of archivists and curators.

---

Hillie de Rooij*Myopia

Published by The Eriskay Connection
Edition of five hundred, 2015
255 NOK (27 Euros)

De Rooij analyses the iconography of photographs sourced from European media outlets portraying Africa. Applying these coded guidelines to photographs made in Europe, de Rooij makes us aware of Western preconceived ideas of what Africa looks like. Myopia tells us nothing about Africa, but everything about the European view on it.

Honza Zamojski*Four Eggs Theory

Edition of two hundred, 2015
190 NOK (20 Euros)

"If I were to apply the Four Eggs Theory back upon itself, it essentially would look as follows: I have an intuitive need (Intuition) to structure the world of matter (Item) and ideas (Idea) around me, and this is why, inspired (Inspiration) by the theoretical ponderings of writers, poets, and artists, as well as various artefacts, I think constantly about how to (Idea) communicate my knowledge in a logical manner (Item). All this comes together to make the Work, which is part of a greater whole – a Practice."

---

Imi Maufe*Japan Blues

Edition of ten, 2015
2340 NOK (250 Euros)

Whilst travelling by train from the north to south of Japan, Maufe observed the use of the colour blue to draw attention to objects in rural and urban environments. The boxed collection of twelve wooden postcards highlights these blue objects, edited from photographs captured along the way.

---

Imrich Veber*BLOK 62

Edition of one hundred and fifty, 2015
560 NOK (60 Euros)

A family album presented in the format of the everyday newspaper combines photographs from Veber's own childhood and found imagery. The docufiction narrative deals with the collective memory of a generation who grew up on the housing estates of the 70s and 80s in Central Europe.

---

Manfred Naescher*Still - Ten Watercolours

Published by Distance Over Time
Edition of fifty, 2014
660 NOK (70 Euros)

A series of allegorical still lifes based on imagery found in action films like Terminator and Die Hard. As the flowers and plants - mute witnesses of violent scenes performed in front of them - take centre stage, action becomes still life.

Jane Grisewood*Repetition & Recollection...

Edition of thirty, 2016
510 NOK (55 Euros)

Inspired by Søren Kierkegaard's Repetition, an insightful dialectic and paradox published in 1843. Recollection is confined to the past - or is it bringing the past into the present, whilst Repetition is constantly moving forward; or is it connecting the past to the future?

---

Jessie Brennan*REGENERATION!*Conversations, Drawings, Archives & Photographs from Robin Hood Gardens

Edition of five hundred and fifty, 2015
200 NOK (21 Euros)

Architectural plans, photographs by a former resident, drawings by Brennan and essays chart the sociopolitical status of Robin Hood Gardens, built as a council housing estate in Poplar, East London. An exploration informed by local residents into lived-in Brutalism and the personal impact of redevelopment. Recorded interviews and doormat rubbings – form a starting point for engaging conversations.

---

Jos Jansen*Battlefields

Published by The Eriskay Connection
Edition of three hundred, 2015
150 NOK (16 Euros)

Photography is used as a forensic-scientific tool to examine our compulsive desire to be connected at all times. The publication contains ten monumental images that Jansen made of screen-surfaces of smartphones and tablets.

---

Elisabeth Ida*Inside Embassies

Published by Art Paper Editions
Edition of five hundred, 2015
230 NOK (25 Euros)

Efforts made in embassy waiting rooms, corridors and lobbies to convey something about the country while creating a certain homelike atmosphere come across as gauche rather than elegant; under the watchful eye of the ubiquitous state picture of a president, king or queen, keen to ensure that the national budget is not wasted.

Louis Porter*Optics

Edition of one hundred, 2015
160 NOK (17 Euros)

Illustrations from a variety of early photographic manuals and treatises, sourced from the London Library, are presented as a pictorial analysis of the increasingly esoteric language of early photography and the form of "looking" it enabled.

---

Marcelle Hanselaar*Book of Lists, Kitab al Fihrist

Edition of seven, 2015
6000 NOK (640 Euros)

A timecapsule of the literate Arab world reveals an interest from the profound to the bawdy. Hanselaar juxtaposes her self-referential etchings with typeset excerpts from Kitab al Fihrist, an index of all books written in Arabic by Ibn al Nadim, a 10th Century bookseller from Baghdad.

---

Marie Jacotey*Dear Love Who Should Have Been Forever Mine

Published by common-editions and Stinsensqueeze
Edition of one thousand, 2015
210 NOK (22 Euros)

An exploration of human behaviour through the visual correspondence of a failed relationship, with all of the associated feelings of love, desire, resentment and regret. Thirty unique coloured pencil drawings, loosely folded and unbound allow for multiple readings and interpretations of the bande dessinée.

---

Patrizia Meinert*Makulatur (Waste Paper)

Edition of fifty, 2016
800 NOK (85 Euros)

A homage to the leftovers that remain after a book is completed. The material residue of maquettes and demonstration copies accumulated during the creation of an artist's book were scanned, photographed and presented along with documentation of Meinert's work process in the medium of book arts.